(ALPHARETTA, GA) – August 21, 2019 – The Kitchen & Bath Industry Show \(KBIS\) is the focus of a new design special premiering Thursday, August 22, 5pm EST on the FYI channel. All You Need to Know: Design and Construction is an hour-long special produced by A&E that explores the latest trends, products and inspiration from the kitchen and bath industry as seen during KBIS and the International Builder's Show (IBS) in February. Featured in the show are dozens of products from exhibiting brands including Signature Kitchen Suite (SKS), Delta, Moen and LIXIL, as well as interviews with industry leader Bill Darcy, CEO of the National Kitchen & Bath Association (NKBA) and brand executives, including Thompson Traders' Founder Alejandra Thompson, Wellborn's Director of Marketing Angela O'Neill, Control4's Senior Director of Product Marketing Brad Hintz and Delta's Industrial Designer Tony Spangler and many others.

For more than 50 years, KBIS has been the destination trade show for the kitchen and bath industry attracting tens of thousands of design and construction professionals each year. In 2019, the three-day event had record attendance and more than 600 exhibitors, nearly all of which introduced new products, including a custom emerald green refrigerator from True Residential and a bathroom mirror from Häfele that doubles as a sound system and a modular outdoor kitchen suite from THOR Kitchens.

The show returns to Las Vegas this January, again co-locating with IBS, with more than 2,000 design and construction brands and more than 95,000 industry professionals expected to attend.

All You Need to Know: Design and Construction airs Thursday, August 22, at 5:00 pm Eastern, on the A&E channel FYI. The show is part of the Home.Made programming block which is dedicated to all things home improvement and design inspiration.
